KRISTIN MILLAR & MARK NEUFELD JULY 26, 2008

PHOTOGRAPHY CORALEE PENNER/REDPHOTOCO.COM.

With a warm prairie wedding theme in mind, Kristin Millar and Mark Neufeld took advantage of Manitoba's fresh, green scene and hosted a tented reception at the Whitehorse Escape Bed and Breakfast. "We wanted everything to fit with the natural beauty that surrounded us," Kristin explains. "We loved that the tent was in a beautiful field with open spaces to one side, gardens on the other and a river behind us." Decor elements included mason jars hung from trees, willow branches used as centrepieces, and a photo display against ladders—everything played beautifully off the couple's charming and rustic motif. Adding to the bride's perfect day was the photo booth guest book, which coincidentally was the same booth her parents used during their rehearsal dinner 30 years ago. "My parents had a car rally, where people did a scavenger hunt to collect different items and one was to pile into a photo booth and bring back the strip. The booth we used happened to be the exact one they used in their car rally," Kristin describes. So, how did the night wrap up for the new mister and missus? "We danced the night away. We were surprised to see the dance floor packed, even those you never expected to move were dancing their hearts out," Kristin laughs. 📷
